WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1901.

In order that the JOURNAL force may have an opportunity to enjoy the Carson City Carnival in all its glory on the Fourth, there will be no paper issued from this office to-morrow morning.

STILL UNCONQUERED.

More than a year has elapsed since the British commanding general had overthrown the South African territory, that he ventured to proclaim that the independence was destroyed and the territory was at that time actually an annex to Great Britain. A large army had been maintained and had met reverse after reverse instead of marching triumphantly and with no serious opposition to Pretoria as had been boasted. Reinforcements had been basted and Lord Roberts sent to command the largest army that Great Britain had ever supported in the field. At a time the life was turned by such an overwhelming preponderance of numbers, and Pretoria, the Boer capital, was occupied. It was then that Lord Roberts declared the conquest virtually complete, and proclaimed sovereignty. But just the same, the immense army has been busily occupied and it has been necessary to send about 3,000 men a month to keep their number good and to make up for the loss by sickness and the bullets of the "conquered" subjects. British papers admit that it has been and is now costing their government $1,000,000 per day to carry on the struggle, and there has been no evidence produced that the slightest progress has been made in the last year. One of the worst defeats the British have suffered occurred only about two weeks ago and it appears more than likely that the Boers are prepared with more of the same kind of medicine whenever they care to assume the aggressive and pay the cost.

It is certain that England cannot even now afford to force the Boers to unconditional surrender. It cannot afford the time and treasure it would require to achieve it. The result in the end will be a compromise. The Boers are by no means in a bad condition to hold out and badly harass their would be conquerors. It is a false national pride that permits the rulers of a nation to stand out to unconditional surrender in the face of such indisputable facts. It is a reputation of the barbarian acts of other centuries, and a spurning of the lessons of modern civilization and the principles of humanity. The last year has made some conditions impressive that were not previously realized. The British people are beginning to murmur, and the World sentiment should exercise its influence promptly and strongly.

THE PER CAPITA.

It is stated that the money in circulation in this country at present amounts to $23.13, an increase of $1.42 over a year ago. And yet France became the most prosperous country in the world with a per capita circulation of $49. France paid its big war debt, including, if we remember correctly, one thousand million dollars indemnity to Germany, in a very short time; made her people contented and happy and became one of the powers of the world. It might not be a bad idea for our national financiers to study up the reasons for all this and give our people the benefit of their observations, rather than continue the present system of finance, which only serves to make the rich richer and the poor poorer. As the increased gold output, which has been the principal argument and boast of the single gold standard advocate, only increased the per capita $1.42, it was not regarded as much here at the present time to write or utter the word "silver," the JOURNAL might humbly suggest that the problem could be easily solved, if an increased per capita is desirable, by introducing a medium of the white metal into the currency of the country. That's the way that France did it. But as French cooking is the only frenchified thing that is acceptable to our latter day statesmen, probably even a hint at such suggestion would be ruled out of order as bearing upon a matter that has been twice indefinitely postponed.

A RIGHTEOUS ACT.

The emphatic declaration of President McKinley over his own signature that he will not be a candidate for a third term was an unexpected damper upon those who had become prominent in the third term movement. All patriotic Americans of whatever party should be pleased that the discussion of the matter has been ended by the President's prompt refusal to violate the unwritten law which has prevailed for more than a century and which was proclaimed by the Father of his Country during the second Presidential term. In this respect President McKinley has proven himself a greater man than General Grant, whose ambition prompted him to an act which will ever be regretted by his countrymen as the only stain upon his otherwise unblemished record as a soldier and Chief Executive of the nation.

While the acquiescence of President McKinley in the scheme of his over zealous friends would have furnished the best possible capital for the Democratic party, and his success in convention given the opposing candidate an almost incalculable advantage before the people, the JOURNAL is sincerely rejoiced that the matter resulted as it did. Whatever temporary political advantage might have been gained would rank as nothing compared with the general shame of a great national party spurning the advice and example of the illustrious Washington—violating the unstatuted law which has ever been held more sacred than the Constitution itself. While there are many acts of President McKinley which in our opinion merit disapproval and condemnation, this one entitles him to the praise of all fair minded men, and a heavy score on the credit side of his official ledger.

TRAVELING WITH COMFORT.

The comforts of modern methods of travel are impressively illustrated by the fact that Mrs. McKinley was enabled to travel, in her precarious condition, across the continent from San Francisco to Washington without suffering fatigue more than she would have experienced if she had remained in the finest suite of rooms of any of the first class hotels at the Bay City. For several days confined to a bed of sickness with not a strength enough to warrant her "sitting up" in her room and so weak that she had to be carried from her room to the carriage and from carriage to train, she rode those thousands of miles without injury. At least it was so represented, and the fact of her health improvement from day to day since her return to Washington would warrant the inference that she suffered no harm from the long journey. But the accomplishment of this feat is really no revelation. There were no new appliances or means of conveyance in her case that are not available to the general public, and whose use is beyond the command of any person of average means. It is only the promise of the invalid lady that makes the conditions more than ordinarily noticeable. With the heavy Pullman cars the iron-ve steel rails laid upon an improved road bed, and of an improvement, made to add to the comfort of passengers, long distance traveling could never before be accompanied with so little fatigue and discomfort as to day. It is a triumph in which the American people can well take wholesome pride and satisfaction.

Judge Hawley of the U. S. District Court at Carson has issued a restraining order in the matter of the Assessors of the State jointly assessing the C. P. railroad property in the State under the new revenue law. The order is in nowise an indication of the final decision of the court. The JOURNAL scribe confesses that he is not sufficiently posted upon the details of the law to express an opinion concerning its merits or demerits. After a thorough examination of the matter the JOURNAL will not be backward in speaking out in meeting.

Coal dealers in the East say that the public must bear its share of the advanced price of coal. This is the only thing the public is likely to get its share of from any of the trusts—adding no assessments and no dividends. With a Philadelphia lawyer who is the attorney of the largest trust in the country in the office of Attorney General, the people have no hope of redress against the extortion of the coal or any other trust. They will have to grin and bear it in the summer and shiver and bear it in the winter.

Hundreds Die From Heat.

Special to the JOURNAL. New York, July 2.—Over one hundred persons died of heat in this city and vicinity to day. The weather bureau reports no relief probable for some days. Mills and factories are generally closed. Other cities of the East report similar conditions, but with lower death rate.

An Arizona Town Burned.

Special to the JOURNAL. PHOENIX, Arizona, July 2.—The mining town of Globe, one hundred miles east of here, was almost totally destroyed by fire to day. Wires are burned, and details are not obtainable at present.

SYRUP OF FIGS

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

ABOUT MINE AND MINER

Notes Gathered From Exchanges
About This Industry.

Joseph Arthur has resumed operations on the Bullwhacker and Silver West mines on Adams Hill, Eureka county.

The miner's inch is being abolished as a legal measure for water. Arizona, California and Montana have each passed laws making the cubic foot the standard measure. In Arizona 100 miners' inches are counted as an equivalent of two and one-half cubic feet per second.

The Consolidated California & Virginia Mining Company has a cash balance of $108,000, with ten carloads of high-grade ore to be settled for, which will increase the treasury account nearly $20,000. This splendid showing indicates a continuance of the ten-cent monthly dividend.

Herman Zedig, the well known broker of this city, in a letter to his firm received here yesterday morning, says among other things bearing upon the welfare of the Comstock market, that the resumption of dividend payments by Con Cal & Virginia had created a renewed interest among New York speculators in the mines of Virginia City. He believes that a strike of ore at any point along the old lode will bring a large amount of money into the market again from Eastern operators.—San Francisco Post.

There is a hearing before the U. S. Land Office this week affecting the title of the Emmons iron mines near Lovelock. Mr. Emmons has worked these mines a number of years. It turns out that those claims are on odd numbered sections reserved for the railroad. The laws say that railroads cannot obtain titles to mineral lands, but iron and coal are not so classified. Mr. Emmons and Mr. Welsh rely upon the showing that there are other minerals besides iron on the land.—Carson News.

SAGEBRUSH OCCURRENCES

Interesting Happenings in the State Gleaned From Exchanges.

Robert Stewart sends word from Sodaville that lumber for a jail building is now on the way to Tonopah. The indications are that a jail will be one of the pressing wants of the future and that it soon will be filled.—Bonanza.

Senator F. C. Kelly has commenced a suit in the District Court of Lander county against William Easton for an accounting of the affairs of a co-partnership heretofore existing between Mr. Kelly and Mr. Easton, and to recover $3517.42.—Silver State.

Accom, on the railroad station between Nevada and Barley, is a lively place and quite a number of people are in that vicinity. The town has three saloons, one store, a boarding house, and as a sure indication of prosperity, a resident of that place has taken out a gambling license.—Record.

Jay D. Stannard of Reno and Joe Mack of Dayton, spent a day or two in town this week. Mr. Stannard is engaged in measuring the water in the Humboldt and other small streams, also examining the survey of sites for storage reservoirs and gathering data for the irrigation possibilities and the best methods of controlling and utilizing the resources of the State of Nevada. Mr. Stannard started his work at Lovelock and travels overland behind a good span of bays.—Central Nevada.

ALL IN READINESS FOR GALA TIMES.

This Morning the Carson Carnival and Street Fair Will Open and Merry-making Begin.

BY C. D. VANDUZER.

The Midway blew in this morning on the wings of the wind. It is a warm aggregation of talent, about as warm as ever came down the pike. Mr. Mouser, whose smile of affection has been so catchy with the carnival committee, has produced a show surpassing in numbers, beauty, variety, novelty and talent the expectations of the people.

The V. & T. was loaded to the guards, three in the seats and four in the aisles. They are all here—snake eaters, snake charmers and gentlemen who will snake the dollars, coons from Coon town, Darktown and any other old town.

In merrie old England, where street fairs were the attraction in the time of Elizabeth's jolly reign, the modern midway thrived but under another name and the theatrical features added much to their fame.

While the wind is raising a dust and racket, causing a fluttering of banners and a flapping of tents, yet it is in no way interfering with the decorations which are being put up all along the line.

The Capitol grounds are assuming a gorgeous appearance. On the east steps a large platform is being erected, where Queen Nellie is to hold forth with her maids or honor. A large platform occupies the full space, on which vaudeville entertainments will be given twice a day. The entertainments will be refined and such as women and children can witness and the usual vulgarity which follows the midway will not be found in Carson.

On the lawn a large platform has been built, where dancing can be indulged in both for afternoons and evenings. No expense has been spared to make the occasion one long to be remembered.

The fair opens tomorrow at 8 a. m., when 20 strokes of the fire bell will announce the opening of the carnival. A tennis tournament follows. Then at 11 a. m., in a blaze of color and with a flare of trumpets the midway will open and the fun begin.

In the evening the coronation parade will take place and all Carson will be in its glory. Everything points to an unqualified success and Carson is happy.

The committees are hard worked and every energy is being put forth. System marks the work and when the Carnival is over the people of Carson will be the subject of congratulation.

INTER-STATE MATTER.

A Problem in Irrigation that is Confronting this State

An interesting complication, which has arisen in the growing demand for water in the West for irrigation purposes, was noted in a recent reconnaissance made by the United States Geological Survey in Western Nevada.

This part of Nevada receives very little rain, and hence is a dry and unproductive land. But so wonderful are the possibilities of development in a seemingly dead country by means of irrigation, as has been illustrated time and time again in other sections of the West that even the inhospitable tracts could be brought under cultivation and made suitable to sustain a good population if developed by irrigation.

But it seems that the rivers in Western Nevada all rise on the eastern slopes of the Sierra Nevada, on the California side of the line. Indeed, this boundary seems to have been originally drawn so as to include all the good land available on the east up to the border of the interior desert.

Thus California controls the headwaters of these streams, and, with all the conservatism born of imaginary lines, the California settlers are slow to allow the erection of storage reservoirs and irrigating plants which are needed to give the Nevada settlers the water they require.

Like everything else, time will straighten out this difficulty, which is serious enough now, and Nevada will get its water, but the instance is an example of the hindrances in the way of progress is interesting and suggestive.

THE THOMPSON MINE.

"Chloride" Thompson is spending a few days in town nursing a sore hand. He got the member between a crowbar and a rock and was attempting to demonstrate some theory regarding the resistance of material. The "material" in question was not able to stand the pressure.

Mr. Thompson's prospect shaft is one of the deepest in the Weedkind camp. He is down 120 feet and still sinking.

AN OLINGHOUSE MINE.

W. W. Woodruff, a mining man of Olinghouse Gulch, is spending a few days in this city. He owns a third interest in the January mine, which contains one of the best defined leads in the camp. It is seven feet wide, and mills 75 a ton. The workings consist of a shaft 65 feet deep and a 60 foot drift. Mr. Woodruff's partners are W. F. Brown and Fred George.

GET A HUSTLE ON.

J. A. Fitzgerald is glad to get back to Reno after a month's absence. He says that California towns the size of Reno are not doing nearly the volume of business that is transacted here, but that in the spirit of municipal improvement this town is far behind its neighbors across the mountains.

A LUCKY NAME.

Luck runs in the Weedkind family. Another descendant of the original Mr. W. is in Reno and his name is George also. He is the owner of the famous Buckskin mine in Idaho, and is traveling for his health. Mr. Weedkind is registered at the Arcade.

SHOT A DOG.

A valuable setter owned by Robert Enlistone was shot last night by a drunken man by the name of Barrett. He fired the shot from the door of the Del Paso and was run in by Officer Nash.

He will be charged with discharging a fire arm within the municipal limits.

MAY PAVE STREETS.

A Proposition to Lay Asphalt on Principal Thoroughfares.

A petition signed by numerous citizens and taxpayers was presented to the County Commissioners yesterday sitting as a Town Board. The petitioners request the Board to pave Commercial Row from Lake to Sierra streets, Virginia from Commercial Row to the Iron bridge and Second street from Virginia to Sierra. The material used to be asphaltum.

The Board took the matter under advisement and set July 15th as the date when the matter would be finally determined. On that date all persons interested may present themselves before the Board and show cause why this work should not be done according to plans and specifications submitted.

The Journal has no bias to express on this subject, but it must be said that municipal improvement, within the bounds of reasonable cost, is the policy of this paper. The Journal has and does advocate street paving in order to avoid the dust of summer and the mud of winter, which render life a burden and indicate to the outside world that Reno is not keeping up with the march of improvement.

FIRE MARSHALL NEEDED.

Fire Chief Hodgkinson was interviewed yesterday by a Journal reporter on the question of creating the office of Fire Marshall in this city. He approves of the proposition and expresses the opinion that H. J. Thyes is eminently qualified for the appointment.

VACATION WORK.

Principal Bray leaves today for Berkeley. He will spend a month at the University of California taking work in pedagogy and supervision. Mrs. Bray and children will remain in Reno during the vacation months.

SPLENDID ASSAYS.

Superintendent A. E. Murdoch is in from the Last Chance mine. An incline has been sunk 70 feet on the ledge. Two assays were recently obtained, one for $75 and the other for $102 in gold, silver and copper. Five men are employed in the mine.

TO PROSPECTIVE MUSICIANS.

Raymond Bone will be at the Riverside today, anyone desirous of taking lessons on either string or brass instruments may leave word at Cann's Drug Store.

Yours sincerely,
RAY BONE.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED.

The forest fire up the river has spent its fury. It did little damage. The fire originated at a clearing near the State-line mill.

ORE SHIPMENTS.

A carload of ore will leave the Reno Star mine today and a carload will be shipped every day for the next week. Shipments from the Bell mine now average 75 tons a week.

LAID TO REST.

The funeral of the late A. J. Chalmers took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Episcopal Church. It was largely attended. The services were very impressive.

A NEW MILITARY COMPANY.

A military company will be organized at Lovelock on the 6th instant. A list of seventy-six members has been obtained, and the number will probably be increased to 100.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

A Right of Way Granted to T. K. Stewart for Rapid Transportation.

The trolley may soon be tripping along the thoroughfares of Nevada's metropolis. A move in this direction was made yesterday. The Board of County Commissioners, sitting as a Town Board, has granted to T. K. Stewart and associates the right of way to construct an electric railway along the following streets of Reno:

Beginning at the intersection of Key-stone and Riverside, thence to University avenue and to the railway depot.

The promoters of the enterprise plan to construct the line to Lawton springs, the Journal is informed, and improve this property so as to make it a very popular resort.

It has not been given out how soon work will begin on this line, but it will probably be completed by autumn. It has been under consideration for over a year.

There is so much buzzing of prospective electric currents at present that Renoites hardly know where they are "at."

The Reno Water, Land & Light Company is improving its system and there is some talk of its being made a twenty-four hours in the day proposition in order to furnish power. The Floriston company is also talking about coming into Reno and a third company is getting ready to do business here. One of the latter concerns has already begun the construction of a big power house.

No matter how all these propositions figure out, Reno will undoubtedly be the gainer. There will be a hot time in the old town some sweet day, bye and bye.

NOTHING FOR PUBLICATION.

The Journal localizer approached John Sparks on the matter of information regarding the Reno Star mine yesterday. The ex-cattle king frowned, but his eyes had a twinkle that belied the forbidding countenance. "Do you know, young man, that I never killed but two reporters in my time that I know of to an absolute certainty but at least a dozen others crawled off into the brush. I have never learned what became of them."

RENO'S RIDERS.

The relay team that will represent the Reno Wheelmen's Club in the race with Sacramento tomorrow was chosen last night. The following will ride to keep the championship of the coast in this city:

A. W. Keddle, A. Peckham, J. Peckham, J. Hart, E. Stanley, G. Kornmeyer, C. Merslon, G. Johnson, and a choice yet to be made between Alf Peckham and Will Hart. E. Frazer will be a substitute.

JUNE WEATHER.

During June the prevailing direction of the wind was west. It blew with a total movement of 5115 miles. The mean temperature was 59. The highest was 68 on the 28th and the lowest was 34 on the 13th. The total precipitation for the month was .23 inches. There were 20 clear days, 7 partly cloudy days and 3 cloudy days in the month.

ARTISTIC JOB WORK.

The Journal has now the best equipped job office in the State. In addition to the type and machinery originally included in the plant, Messrs. White & Case, the "Quick Printers," have moved their up-to-date stock in trade into this office and are prepared to execute plain and difficult job work of all kinds at reasonable prices. Patronize home industry and get your money back.

FOUGHT FOR HIS LIFE.

"My father and sister both died of Consumption," writes J. T. Weather-wax, of Wyandotte, Mich., "and I was saved from the same frightful fate only by Dr. King's New Discovery. An attack of pneumonia left an exhausting cough and a very severe lung trouble which an excellent doctor could not help but a few months' use of this wonderful medicine made me as well as ever and I gained much in weight." Infallible for croup, whooping cough, influenza, Croup, Colds, and all Throat and Lung trouble. Trial bottles free. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

Yesterday morning's Journal contained 108 separate items of town, county and State news. All possible sources of news were visited and care exercised to secure accuracy as well as quantity of interesting information.

This method will be daily pursued and the Journal made a daily resume of local history, printing all the news worthy of being printed. The people of Reno are already appreciating this effort on the part of the new management to improve the news service and are placing their names upon the subscription list in considerable numbers. There will be no feeling of partiality or bias expressed in the local columns of this paper. All the news, all the time, sans personality, sans politics, sans pusillanimity.

Bombs are booming, crackers are cracking and the Fourth is come-fothing.

Fourth of July Souvenirs—you won't be dressed up without one—are on sale at this office and at Rosenthal & Armanco's.

A false alarm sounded yesterday on account of a tangle between a fire alarm wire and another electricity transporter.

Steve Curry has received a rubber-tired hearse, costing $1800. This is the first vehicle of the sort ever received in the State.

The members of the Reno relay team have had their prizes took. You can see what they look like for half a dollar. The boys are out on the streets getting rid of them at four bits per.

The Owl has installed a handsome bar of Spanish cedar that you can see all your ugliness mirrored in. Ed Stone, the night booze clerk, objects strenuously to it for the aforesaid reason.

CLOSING ON THE FOURTH.

The town of Reno will be a very dead proposition on the glorious Fourth. Everybody, or nearly everybody, will go to Carson to witness the relay race.

Nearly all the business houses in Reno will close on that day. Newt Bakerless informs the Journal that he and the J. R. Bradley Company, want it understood that they are right there on the closing proposition even if they came out a dollar or two loser on the proposition. With these self-alleged "hard citizens" successfully disposed of, the "easy ones" will doubtless quickly come to time.

HANDSOME BUILDING.

Jack Wylie is erecting a two-story brick building on Commercial Row adjoining the Pyramid house. It will be used for storage purposes. The dimensions are 36x60 feet. It is a handsome building and improves the appearance of that part of the street.

SENATOR JACKSON INJURED.

Senator R. D. Jackson sustained a fractured leg yesterday. He was leading a splint or rather vicious horse near his cyanide works at Willow Glen. The animal leaped and fell on the Senator with the result above noted.

X-RAY NEVER CURES CANCER

Neither do the regular practicing physicians. The knife being their only method of treatment which is a failure, so is the X Ray a failure. Investigate and be convinced. We will show 500 persons cured of cancer by our treatment to any ordinary doctors or the X Rays one. Owing to the stringent law now existing in Nevada, which must have been passed in the interest of the doctors and which should be modified by the next Legislature we cannot practice in this State. We have arranged with several persons to cross the line into California and go to Truckee where we will treat and nurse them until well. Any person suffering with cancer, tumors, even cancer of the mouth or tongue can come to our office at Truckee and be cured for a very reasonable charge.

No cure, no pay is our motto. We will be at Truckee from July 5th until July 30th. Our treatment is with the hypodermic needle or plaster, no knife, no electricity, very little pain compared to the knife. Many cancers on exhibition. Some small, some weighing five pounds. Come and be convinced.

After September the 1st our office will be in San Francisco, Cal. DR. J. L. BONNIANNAN AND DR. J. W. DUNN, specialists in the treatment of malignant diseases.
